Dear Deborah —

I got your letter at dusk — & of course hastened down to my friends the Jones's — & there found more developements than I expected —

Mrs Burnham to my great regret was not entertaining — but Mrs Jones hailed me gladly — & it was not necessary for me to say a word to turn on the conversation — "I was the very person she wanted to see" — Mrs B. was out — but she could tell me the principal part of the matter — And who do you think was sent — to barn-bozzle Roxbury — why John E. Fuller & his wife — Saturday evening about dusk they appeared at Mrs Burnham's door, asking for the Miss Burnhams — Now I remember giving Mrs Burnham an account of the Annual meeting — I think so — I would not swear to it — Mrs Jones & Mrs Burnham have been culpably remiss in not getting it out, with the words of truth & the loss then moving at the time — it is never too late to mend — Mrs Jones however was fumbling with the mature of leguminous vegetables & she was summoned to the table — Mrs Burnham was somewhat busy giving [illegible] — The Fullers assured her that they were [illegible] — that she ought to aid the fair, that she expected to do what she could & promised them $10.00 worth of fresh cake on the morning of the fair so the wife feel herself obliged to do so much — — Mrs Jones took her ground & stated her views — Father thought her influenced by Mrs Chapman — Mrs Jones said — her opinions were the result of her own observations — She had not seen Mrs C. through the whole Summer & autumn —

She told them that they (herself & husband) should do no less for the cause than they had always done but they thought they should pay into the Mass. Soc. or Anti Slav.
Liberator, as they might be directed

Then it came out that Fuller is opposed to the Liberator — & trying to injure its circulation — Said it would lose a thousand subscribers, at new year — & that the peace doctrines were doing great harm

Mrs Jones said they did not trouble her the questions, was not very interesting to her, and She seldom read them they would not effect the usefulness of the paper —

I think this circumstance of Fuller's opposition to the Liberator should be looked into — I suspect Phelps is to make a desperate stand — it may be that he is the meanest tool in the world — I am both to think Fuller bad — he & his wife spoke of us, as having done very wrong to leave the Society!!!!

Mrs Chapman could not get over her report being objected to — It was too personal — quite too bad to say what it did about Dear Garrison — Mrs Chapman has a fine woman — a person of great influence — She was an excellent Captain, but if she could not rule — could do nothing — She has now by — my to ring me the fair — & My heart rejoices as the Jones Robe of the melancholy inflexion with which they said — "that there was no doubt — that that family alone would keep $300!! dollars out of the cause at this time — Mrs Jones consoled them by assuring them that she did not believe that the cause could lose it at all — they excused Mr Parker's conduct — said she entirely forgot Mr Quincy's letter — that the Motion to give $500 to the National meant the Massachusetts — That Miss Sullivan said that it never entered her heart to make any distinction — That a false issue has made up with regard to the Samaritan asylum — You had better see Garrison ~~at~~ but immediately — let no grass grow under his feet to trust Fuller — You had better see Loring & Sewall — & prepare them — to act upon the paper — We need Olivia — "Oh for one hour of I don't doubt that more plans are hatching than could be examined in a month but — a rapid concentration of strength if skilfully made with entire success

Mrs Jones Dane talk with me about me as I can to ascertain without implicating any body — I suppose much of what Mrs G. heard was the result of the Parker coyote twins over Fuller's report — & you know I told Mrs Johnston about my dismission from the board — I dare say that they account for my enmity in this way

I dont know that it would be of any use to enlighten Fuller & his wife but I think it would be a kindness — I beg you all to let your policy be cautious, this I hope — do not let any doubts escape publicly about Phelps except as far as he has committed himself I wish that we may give one more testimony in the Free Church
